On behalf of all internet users ,I urge you to settle the case with Microsoft ASAP. Mediate the amount of software and hardware Microsoft must give to schools and other non-profit organizations to satisfy the courts.
Netscape/AOL are cry babies. They should spent there time and money developing a competitive product instead of try to make a profit in court at others expense. Netscape was never a good product that could have competed with Internet Explorer.
DoJ should consider Anti- Trust action against AOL/Time Warner for their monopolistic approach to internet access and music and entertainment.
